3. We then spoke about the status of the seven hostages. I noted that Ambassador Walters was prepared to stop by and see Assad on his way back home from Islamabad. We noted the growing unrest in Pakistan focusing on anti-US threats and violence.

4. The DCI asked what preparation was underway for the NSPG on leaks and hostile presence. We were informed that the 7 August meeting will take place addressing both topics and that the President will encourage Cabinet members to take action against leaks.

5. Poindexter spoke of Bill Clark's willingness to visit Honduras and El Salvador in an effort to mediate the border dispute. McFarlane indicated that he would talk to Secretary Shultz about having Clark perform this mission. Everyone recognized the down side of our becoming involved and possibly being blamed by either one or both parties for whatever solution or nonsolution occurs.

9. The DCI talked about the South African situation and the possible inroads that the Soviets can make in light of the situation there.

10. [redacted]
the White Paper on technology transfer and that the US should now put on a full-court press to get the paper publicized. The DCI said it should not be left to a single news release but should be spread around the country. Defense could be helpful in doing this by sending the paper to its industrial contractors.
